

DR. BIGGERS' HUCKLEBERRY CORDIAL For the BOWELS.

Dr. Biggers' Huckleberry Cordial is especially suited for curing Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, and all bowel disorders, and curing the little ones suffering from a dragoon's cure for the spleen, liver, etc., etc. It is also a valuable medicine for the cure of consumption. Price $1.00, and is a bottle.

Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Gum, Sassafras, and other Medicinal Roots and Bark.

The number of applications for postmasterships and charges against postmasters received at the Post Office Department is steadily increasing and the mail received yesterday was very heavy. The smaller offices are now being filled at the rate of about 100 a day by one appointment for every five minutes of a working day in the department. A great deal of the work of examination of these cases, however, is done at the Postmaster General's office. At the present rate of progress all the offices where there are vacancies or where commissioners have expired will soon be filled.

The above clipping from the Washington Post shows that changes are being made in the postoffices with commendable celerity. Now let us hear of the other departments following the example thus set.

The State Convention Convention of Ohio will be held at Springfield July 1 and 2. Full State ticket will be $1.00.

Rodolfo Rodriguez, of the Mexican band, the victim of Golding's wrath, is recovering.

June 18th, twenty-five of the leading editors of Mexico will start on a tour through the United States in the interest of the commercial relations.

Col Hooker has two or three commencement engaged.

STATE NEWS.

The question of locating the machine shops of the L. N. O. & T. railroads at Vicksburg has been agitating the people of Vicksburg for some time and has had to be settled by a vote of the people. The railroad made a proposition to locate the shops in Vicksburg in consideration of certain conditions which the council accepted and which the voters of the city are called upon to ratify.

The Vicksburg gun club will organize a glass ball and pigeon shooting tournament for July 4th.

R. H. Henry, of the State Ledger took ballot for governor on the press excursion and out of a total of 72 ballot Lowry received 42. The members of the press represented all sections of the state and the opposition vote in most instances was merely complimentary to local favorites.

The Winona Advance pays the following handsome compliment to a popular and meritorious student of the State University:

Mississippi possesses a son in the person of Mr. Walter Tackett, of Holmes' county, who will rise to prominence in the near future and make for himself a name that will do credit to his State. He is a young man of high moral sentiment which the watch he wears, presented by his mother for total abstinence from strong drink, will testify, and he finished the law course in June, when his friends will bring his name before the public as a candidate for a seat in the Lower House of Representatives of the next Legislature. Merit will be rewarded and wish the zeal and ambition this young man of promise possesses he is bound to succeed.

The State Convention Convention of Ohio will be held at Springfield July 1 and 2. Full State ticket will be $1.00.

Rodolfo Rodriguez, of the Mexican band, the victim of Golding's wrath, is recovering.

June 18th, twenty-five of the leading editors of Mexico will start on a tour through the United States in the interest of the commercial relations.

Col Hooker has two or three commencement engaged.

Another Version.

There are several versions of the story of the "Arkansas Traveler," the most prominent of which is one told by Colonel Sandy Faulkner. The following version was recently revived by the Commercial Gazette, of Cincinnati:

Several years since when Tesso was travelling the state of Arkansas, on his way to Texas, railroads being as yet unheard of and stage lines limited, he was obliged to traverse the whole distance on foot or on horseback. One evening about dark he came across a log house standing fifteen or twenty yards from the road, inclosed by a low rail fence of the most primitive description. In the door sat an old man playing the violin. Tesso recognized the tune as "The Arkansas Traveler," which was at that time the most popular tune in that region, and which he had himself composed. The old man was repeating the first part of the tune over and over again, as he did not know the second part. At the time the traveler reached the house it was raining very hard, and he was anxious to obtain shelter from the storm, although the house looked anything but a shelter as it was covered with shingled boards, and the rain was falling in at every crevice. The old man's daughter seemed to be getting supper, while a small boy was laying the table, and the old lady sat in the doorway, near her husband admiring the music.

The stranger on coming up, said: "How do you do?" The maid merely glanced at him, and continued to play, saying, "I do as I please." In your name Jo Anderson! O M Plain old Joe. Are you the landlord here? O M Go and ask my wife. Can I stay here? O M I don't want you. Where did you learn that tune? O M Of a man, in Arkansas, go about your business: if kind of a man was he? An old fool. Come to he looked like you. I have been reached the house, and everything movable. The salvationists fled from the building and the mob followed and attacked them on the streets. Many of the members, male and female, were severely injured. The entire police force was called out, and after some difficulty succeeded in dispersing the mob. No deaths are reported.

Schurz on the South:

Mr. Carl Schurz's late pamphlet on his trip through the Southern States is attracting some attention as being testimony from another source of the development and progress of the New South. Mr. Schurz came down here a few years after the war, he came again a few months ago, and was surprised at the change that has taken place in the interval.

It is not alone that he found that all disloyal feeling had died out in this section—all sensible men had long since recognized this fact, and the "bloody shirt" was waved only by a few persons desirous of keeping themselves in power—but that he saw ahead for the Southern States the best and greatest part of their history.

Jerome B. Peigan City Marshal of Vicksburg is highly appealed to as the best officer that city has had in a long while and his death is seriously deplored by the citizens generally.

The feast of Pentecost was generally observed by the Jewish citizens of the larger towns of Mississippi on Wednesday of last week.

The saloon keepers of Meridian took advantage of the regeneration in progress there last week to have their petitions for renewal of licenses signed by all who registered. The prohibitionists had counter petitions on hand but met with no little encouragement. They withdrew them.

Bishop McTyeire and Musgrave will attend the Mississippi conferences this year the former at Meridian, Dec. 16 and the latter at Kosciusko Dec. 2.

The opponents of Gov. Lowry are slightly disfigured but still in the ring.

Bowen of the Batesville Pa-

honian was the moderate man at the Press Convention and Sam Harper of the Raymond Gazette was the most moderate.

Rev. Mr. Penn, the Texas evangelist, is about closing a series of meetings in Vicksburg. He goes hence to Jackson.

Messies have stopped in Corinth for want of material.

To the little boy, Bob, give me a knife and a fork, if you please.

Boy. We hasn't got no knives and forks, sir.

S. Then give me a spoon.

Boy. We hasn't got no spoons neither.

S. Well, then, how do you do?

Boy. Tolerable, thank you; how do you do, sir?

(Plays second part—lum ti lum, lum ti lum, lum ti lum)

O M Take this man's horse into the kitchen and give him the best in the house; the tune's worth it.

An Arab's Prayers.

Mrs. Spiedy records in her

Wanderings in the Soudan

that her host one night was an Arab, who occupied an apartment adjoining hers and separated from it by a thin partition only. She had just composed herself to woo the drowsy nod, with every promise of success, when the Arab began to pray so loudly as to render sleep impossible. She remonstrated. He desisted for a few minutes, and then raised his voice in supplication as high as ever. She expostulated again, but before sleep came to her relief he was awoke more with unshaken vigor. Repeated admonitions and entreaties failed to silence him, and at last she gave up in despair, and the Arab, who had allowed to finish his long invocations in peace, she belonged to a sect which required its followers to say long prayers aloud, and to start again at the beginning and repeat them to the end if interrupted by the voice of a dog, donkey, or woman. If she had ascertained this peculiar custom beforehand, what a sore trial she might have saved that poor Arab. Ex.

Sacramento, Cal., May 20.—The Salvation Army had a grand gathering from the different cities of the States. After a parade through the city they went to the Sixth Street Church, where it was the intention to hold an all-night prayer-meeting. While the salvationists were engaged in the exercises the church was invaded by several hundred men and boys, who mobbed the salvationists and

the stranger on coming up, said: "How do you do?" The maid merely glanced at him, and continued to play, saying, "I do as I please."

In your name Jo Anderson!

O M Plain old Joe.

Are you the landlord here?

O M Go and ask my wife.

Can I stay here?

O M I don't want you.

Where did you learn that tune?

O M Of a man, in Arkansas,

go about your business:

If kind of a man was he?

W. an old fool. Come to he looked like you.

I have been reached the house, and everything movable. The salvationists fled from the building and the mob followed and attacked them on the streets. Many of the members, male and female, were severely injured. The entire police force was called out, and after some difficulty succeeded in dispersing the mob. No deaths are reported.

Schurz on the South:

Mr. Carl Schurz's late pamphlet on his trip through the Southern States is attracting some attention as being testimony from another source of the development and progress of the New South. Mr. Schurz came down here a few years after the war, he came again a few months ago, and was surprised at the change that has taken place in the interval.

It is not alone that he found that all disloyal feeling had died out in this section—all sensible men had long since recognized this fact, and the "bloody shirt" was waved only by a few persons desirous of keeping themselves in power

—but that he saw ahead for the Southern States the best and greatest part of their history.

Jerome B. Peigan City Marshal of Vicksburg is highly appealed to as the best officer that city has had in a long while and his death is seriously deplored by the citizens generally.

The feast of Pentecost was generally observed by the Jewish citizens of the larger towns of Mississippi on Wednesday of last week.

The saloon keepers of Meridian took advantage of the regeneration in progress there last week to have their petitions for renewal of licenses signed by all who registered. The prohibitionists had counter petitions on hand but met with no little encouragement. They withdrew them.

Bishop McTyeire and Musgrave

will attend the Mississippi conferences this year the former at Meridian, Dec. 16 and the latter at Kosciusko Dec. 2.

The opponents of Gov. Lowry are slightly disfigured but still in the ring.

Bowen of the Batesville Pa-

honian was the moderate man at the Press Convention and Sam Harper of the Raymond Gazette was the most moderate.

Rev. Mr. Penn, the Texas evangelist, is about closing a series of meetings in Vicksburg. He goes hence to Jackson.

Messies have stopped in Corinth for want of material.

DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER MOST PERFECT MADE

Prepared by a physician with special regard to health. No Ammonia, Lime or Alum.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO.

CINCINNATI.

And most will successfully and rapidly.

JUDICIOUSLY

CONSULT LORD AND THOMAS

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

FREE!

RELIABLE SELF-CURE.

A favorite prescription of one of the most noted and successful physicians in the U. S. for Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Headache, Fever, Asthma, Chills, Consumption, &c.

Address DR. WARD & CO., Louisville, Ky.

DR. C. P. DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE.

For all the maladies before the public.

The only safe and reliable medicine.

DR. C. P. DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE.

For all the maladies before the public.

The only safe and reliable medicine.

DR. C. P. DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE.

For all the maladies before the public.

The only safe and reliable medicine.

DR. C. P. DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE.

For all the maladies before the public.

The only safe and reliable medicine.

DR. C. P. DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE.

For all the maladies before the public.

The only safe and reliable medicine.

DR. C. P. DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE.

For all the maladies before the public.

The only safe and reliable medicine.

DR. C. P. DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE.

For all the